YEAR 10 MATHS MODULE EXAM

The first GCSE Mathematics module exam will be on Monday 27th January. This is for all Year 10 Intermediate and Foundation candidates (Sets 3 – 8) and will make up 10% of their final GCSE Mathematics examination mark. It is therefore imperative that all pupils attend school on this date.

It is planned that pupils will practise copies of past examination papers in the lessons preceding the test.

It is vitally important that all pupils are properly equipped for this examination. All pupils should bring a pen, pencil, ruler, pair of compasses, protractor and a calculator. These items can be purchased from the Maths shop.

Advance Notice: The second module test will be on Wednesday 25th June, 2003. C N Kerr

MATHS PUZZLE

A man makes a Will leaving a plot of land (shown below) to his three sons. To be fair, the plot must be split up into three smaller plots which are all the same size and shape. How is this done?

FANTASY FOOTBALL

With plenty of goals around this weekend, there were plenty of points to be had for some strikers. Consequently, there weren't many clean sheets to be found, so top marks to Lauren for adding a goal to his 3 defensive points.

Next Monday (20th January) sees the start of Transfer Window Two. It's the second of three opportunities to make team changes, and will run from 5 p.m. on Monday until 5 p.m. on Monday 3rd February. New transfer passwords will be emailed to individual entrants who have given a valid email address later on this week, else your transfer slips can be obtained from me next week.

This week's 'Manager of the Week' was Mr Trowbridge's Year 8 Maths set, with 22 points.
